2024 PACKAGING TECHNOLOGIST OF THE YEAR - NEW CATEGORY CRITERIA

The Packaging Technologist of the Year Award is designed to recognise and acknowledge the outstanding achievements and contribution by an individual currently working within the Packaging industry across Australia, New Zealand & Asia.

The judges will be looking for packaging technologists, engineers, specialists, designers who have demonstrated advanced technical packaging skills and competencies through projects, initiatives and unique packaging designs.

The individual must be an AIP Member, have been working in the industry for a minimum of 5 years and be working in a technical packaging role.

The individual needs to have proven results within the business they work in through their packaging designs.

The judges will be wanting to also hear about the packaging education that the individual has undertaken, the education and training undertaken to elevate their core competencies in the fundamentals of packaging and future goals for advancing their training and knowledge.

The judges will be looking for examples of projects led and driven by the individual and supporting documentation from the business.

A virtual interview will be undertaken with the finalists as a part of the judging. All finalists are expected to make time to be available for the virtual interview.

There will be one winner from Australia, New Zealand & Asia.
