GUEST SPEAKERS:

Jackie Smiles MAIP
Environment and Sustainability Manager
Blackmores Ltd

Presenting the new Blackmores Amber Bulk Packs and describing the journey from concept through to commercialisation along with all the considerations and testing they carried out. The Blackmores Amber Bulk Packs were recently awarded a World Star Award. The WorldStar Competition, now in its 47th year, is one of the major events of the WPO and this year attracted 264 entries from 37 countries around the world.

Having worked In various roles within Blackmores since 2005 Jackie Smiles MAIP, has developed her skills through supplier engagement, networking and industry bodies. She soon gained the unofficial title of 'packaging specialist' tasked primarily to new product development. Throughout her time at Blackmores she has managed projects associated with packaging or been called upon to give advice on packaging innovation and material selection. She holds a Diploma in both Applied Science and Health Science and is currently completing a Business Degree and the Diploma of Packaging Technology.

Michaela Cooke AAIP
Quality Control Chemist - Packaging
Ego Pharmaceuticals

Presenting Ego's new QV Cream 1kg pump pack. The pack was developed to meet a growing need from consumers to be able to purchase a bulk pack with considerations towards hygiene and cross-contamination, particularly in a hospital setting. QV Cream is highly viscous with non-Newtonian flow characteristics which presented great challenges in designing a pack that would successfully pump out the product.

Michaela Cooke AAIP started at Ego in 2009 as a Packaging Technician and has moved into Quality Control and packaging development having developed skills primarily through on the job experience as well as industry courses and supplier audits. She holds a Degree in Forensic Science (Hons.) and is currently completing the Diploma of Packaging Technology.
