

MEMBERS ONLY VIRTUAL TOUR

AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF PACKAGING

You are invited to join the AIP on a virtual tour of Planet Protector Packaging's manufacturing plant

WHAT:

Planet Protector Packaging is on a mission to eliminate polystyrene from supply chains across the globe. Planet Protector Packaging manufactures a disruptive product called Woolpack, that is made from 100% sheep waste wool enclosed within a recyclable or compostable food grade wrap. It is a sustainable, recyclable and home compostable alternative for shipping temperature-sensitive food, seafood, wine, pharmaceuticals and cosmeceuticals. Independent scientific tests regularly confirm that its performance is superior to that of expanded polystyrene.

During this tour, attendees will hear the story of the development of the international award-winning Woolpack product and witness how it is manufactured and how the product is applied to a wide variety of goods that need to be shipped over very long distances with confidence.

Woolpack has won multiple awards including Australasian Packaging Innovation & Design (PIDA) Awards and WorldStar Packaging Awards.
